NOTHING DOING.

The city fathers foregathered at the usual place of meeting last Tuesday, but outside of allowing their pay to one or two town officials very little was done. Some animated conversation was held, but the meeting might be summed up in two words: Nothing doing.

THE BIG SPECIAL SALE.

The extremely bad weather of Tuesday and Wednesday kept hundreds of people away from the opening of Iralasky's big sale. But the only effect is to leave more of the choicest bargains for those who will come the last of this week and all of next.

NOT ALL KILLED.

Mr. John H. Sutton, of Lawrence county, Ohio, was in this city this week. He is a large fruit grower, particularly of apples. He says that the cold spells have hurt only the early bloomers, and they are not entirely killed.

FLINCH!

The flinch club was entertained last Thursday by Mrs. H. C. Sullivan. This week Mrs. W. B. Pierce was hostess.

E. J. Skaggs has rented a room on the second floor of the Louisa National Bank building, where he is cleaning and pressing clothing. Also, doing tailoring, making a specialty of trousers and fancy vests.

Ben Heston has returned to his work after a visit here. His wife and baby will remain some time.

Mrs. Henry Pinson, who has been very ill for several days, is reported somewhat improved.

A fine line of beautiful post cards on sale at Conley's Store.

KENTUCKY NEIGHBORS.

It is reported that 87 indictments have been returned in Knott county against vote sellers. Magoffin county will be the next to investigate.

Marshall Logan, who resides in Fullerton and who has been employed for sometime at the N. and W. terminals, while walking on the C. and O. tracks Wednesday afternoon was struck by eastbound train No. 2 and seriously if not fatally injured.

There are four widows here, all being in the space of one mile and a half, and all of their farms join. This is a strange occurrence, perhaps not equalled anywhere in Kentucky. The names are Mrs. W. H. Mrs. K. H. Annie and Nannie and all Murphys.—Murphy Fork item in Hazel Green Herald.

Five young boys were poisoned by eating with parsnip roots while playing about the hills back of South Portsmouth Sunday. The boys had been playing "Indian" when the came across some wild parsnip. After eating some they suddenly became ill but managed to reach their homes in safety. On boy's condition was very serious for several hours.

Natural gas, the real kind that lights and heats, is now in West Liberty, and several families are using it for cooking, heating and lighting with good results and unbounded satisfaction. Those who are using it say they don't see how they did without it heretofore. So great is the demand for plumbing that the force of plumbers now at work is insufficient. Everybody is wanting gas at the same time.

Captain Stephen Nethercutt died Wednesday, the 22nd inst., at his home in Grayson, and was buried Thursday in Grayson cemetery.

In 1860 Captain Stephen Nethercutt taught a school in Carter county, and in September 1861 he became Second Lieutenant of Company H, 22nd Ky., at the time being recruited at Grayson, Ky. The recruiting camp being known as "Camp McGuire."

On the 12th day of December, 1861, camp McGuire was broken up and Capt. Nethercutt marched with his company to "Camp Swygart" located on the Ohio river above town of Greenup. On the 2nd day of January, Captain Nethercutt marched with his company to Ashland and from there up the Big Sandy river to Prestonsburg, Ky., where the battle of "Middle Creek" was fought. Capt. Nethercutt was continuously with his regiment and participated in all the marches and engagements from Pikeston to the capture of "Cumberland Gap," and on the famous retreat from the Gap to the Ohio river in which he with the common soldier lived on roasted corn from the 14th of September to 1st of October 1862.

"A tragedy that may yet end in the death of Mrs. Fuller" is the luminous way a down the river contemporary begins an account of an affray which occurred near Huntington recently.

West Liberty, Ky.—John Phillips and Leonard Henry, each aged 15 years, were killed by a dynamite explosion near here Sunday.

The boys procured about 12 sticks of dynamite from a magazine used by railroad men in making a heavy cut on the new Caney Valley railway. They placed the sticks on a grade, covered them with stone and ignited the fuse. After waiting for some time, they concluded the fuse had gone out, and were making investigations when the explosion occurred.

The bodies were frightfully mutilated, part of Phillips' body not being recovered.

Prompt relief in all cases of throat and lung trouble if you use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Pleasant to take, soothing and healing in effect. Sold by A. M. Hughes, druggist, and Louisa Drug Store Co.

It was learned that the reports that the Chesapeake and Ohio was about to build a connection with the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio originated when the Consolidation Coal Company awarded the contract for a thirty-three-mile road to its new coal field in Eastern Kentucky, where it has a 100,000-acre tract of virgin coal land.

This coal will be handled by the Chesapeake and Ohio from Elkhorn City, as it will be delivered to that road over the coal company's private line. It is estimated that this line will cost over $3,000,000 to build through the mountainous district it will traverse.

Conley's $3.50 watches are the best known for the price.

PROMINENT ODD FELLOW

Bad Case of Catarrh and Other Complications. Fully Restored by Farina.

Mr. Chas. L. Sauer.

Mr. Chas. L. Sauer, Grand Scribe, Grand Encampment I. O. O. F. of Texas, writes from San Antonio, Texas: "Nearly two years ago I occupied a position as secretary and treasurer of one of the leading dry goods establishments of Galveston, Texas. The sudden change from high and dry altitude to sea level proved too much for me and I became afflicted with catarrh and cold in the head, and general debility to such an extent as to almost incapacitate me for attending to my duties.

"I was induced to try Farina, and after taking several bottles in small doses I am pleased to say I was entirely restored to my former normal condition and have ever since recommended the use of Farina to my friends."
